

Default Question Block

Survey for Young Children

We want to know what matters to you

We want to know what children like you think is important for us to find out about being poorly. We also want to know what it is like if you have a brother, sister or friend who is poorly. You are the expert on what is important. We would like you to tell us what is important so that we can make things better for children like you.

We want you to tell us so we know what research needs to be done. 'Research' is what we do when we want to learn more about something or find out something new. By telling us what you think, we can help make sure that research answers questions children like you have.

Who can take part?

You can take part if you are poorly or have been poorly and now you are feeling better.
You can take part if your brother, sister or friend is poorly or has been poorly.

What do I need to do?

You need to tell us what matters to you. You can write this in our form on a tablet or computer. If you need help, you can ask someone to write for you.

What will happen to what I tell you?

We will make a big list of everyone's questions. Then, we will ask more children which questions on the list are important to them too. We will also ask families and people who look after children, like doctors and nurses, which questions are important to them. We will tell people about the questions so they know how to make things better for children like you.

Who will know what I tell you?

We will make sure that nobody can tell which things you told us. We will not ask for your name.
