James Lind Alliance Concussion Priority Setting Partnership

Do you have questions about the diagnosis, prevention, treatment or care of concussion which you feel could benefit from research?

You can participate in a research study to help determine the top 10 questions that concussion researchers should answer.

Who are we?

We are a team of patients, caregivers and healthcare providers who are working together to identify research priorities in concussion.

If you are:

- ✓ a person who has had one or multiple concussions
- ✓ a family member or caregiver of a person living with a concussion
- ✓ a healthcare provider who takes care of people with concussion
- ✓ a coach, teacher, colleague or friend of a person with concussion

We want to hear your questions for concussion research! Please complete our survey!

[Subject line: James Lind Alliance Concussion PSP – Survey for concussion research priorities]

Dear X,

We need your help identifying the most important questions for concussion research. If you currently have a concussion or have had a concussion in the past, we want to hear from you. If you are a family member, friend, partner, caregiver or healthcare provider who has cared for someone with a concussion, concussive symptoms, or a mild traumatic brain injury, we need your opinion too!

You can take part by filling out this short survey available in both English and French.

You can complete the survey in English here:
