MULTIPLE MYELOMA?

We want to know what matters most to you.

The Myeloma Priority Setting Partnership (PSP) is an important initiative to help identify what matters most to those impacted by myeloma, for future myeloma research.

Where should myeloma research invest next?

Starting on October 29th, 2019, we want to hear from people living in Canada with myeloma, their caregivers, clinicians and health care professionals on what they feel are the most important myeloma research questions to be answered.

All you need to do is answer a short online survey on what you see as the most important issues for future myeloma research. You can remain anonymous and even participate from the comfort of your home!

Help influence important research that will have an impact on those living with myeloma.
